

A native of Lethbridge, Alberta, John-Paul Ksiazek is a piano instructor for the University of Lethbridge Conservatory of Music and assistant organist at McKillop United Church. He has experience as a soloist, chamber musician, choir and ballet accompanist, soloist with orchestra, and adjudicator, and he performs regularly with a variety of musicians. He also formed the Opus 3 trio with violinist Airdrie Robinson and cellist Christine Bootland. John-Paul studied music at the University of Montréal, University of Alberta, and University of Lethbridge, and his teachers included Jacques Després, Glen Montgomery, and Maneli Pirzadeh. He has been an artist in residence at The Banff Centre and participated in summer music programs in Toronto, Ontario, and Orford, Québec.