

GRAEME ROSET was born and raised in Campbell River, BC. While growing up he studied piano with Brenda Neufeld and Kay Wilson and Theory and History with Sandy Havelaar. In 2006 he graduated with a B. Mus Majoring in Piano Performance (studying under Glen Montgomery) from the University of Lethbridge and in 2008 he graduated with his AVCM in piano pedagogy from the Victoria Conservatory. In 2010 he graduated with a B. Education from Vancouver Island University. Since 2012 he settled down in Lethbridge and currently works as the grade 5-9 school teacher at Spring Ridge Hutterite Colony and as a piano instructor at the Lethbridge Conservatory of Music. He continues to perform regularly, adjudicate music festivals, and compose.

Some performance/ composing highlights include: performing Totentanz by Liszt with the Lethbridge Symphony Orchestra (conducted by Glenn Klassen) and premiering one of his own compositions, Fantasy for piano and wind orchestra, with the LCI Senior Concert Band (conducted by Ken Rogers).

His passions in life are music, golf, snowboarding and hiking--all of which he pursues with his wife Esther. He considers himself blessed to live, work and play in such a gorgeous and culture-rich part of the world.
